Create MATLAB functions, Simulink function blocks, equation-based custom Simscape components, and C or Fortran code directly from symbolic expressions. Use the GAPT function or the SIMP function to use the Simscape or MATLAB libraries to create MATLAB functions. The command syntax for each language is described in the language help. You can also use the reference table below. For example, you can write a function that returns a double using the following syntax: (GAPT C double_return("double")

Here in the Midwest, we just can't seem to cool off. I don't know if it is the hotter days, or the high humidity; however, I have been wearing more and more bulky winter clothing to keep myself cool. If you are like me, I have taken the opportunity to dip into our fabric closet and pull out some fleece pullover tops, skirts, sweaters, dresses, etc. I have also layered and layered my jackets and pullovers. To keep my 'Little Boy', Miles, as cool as possible, I have been taking advantage of our few day breaks from school to catch up on the latest outdoor fun in our city. While his running around has been keeping me physically fit, I thought I would tell you about some of the cool things I have done that will benefit you as well. The Great American Beer Festival is just around the corner (October 8-11, 2009 in Denver). I love this festival and consider myself a "Beer Festival Fanatic". The GABF has some of the best beer makers in the world. I have to tell you, this year in Denver, it is going to be bigger and better than ever. This year, the event holds a beer fan contest for grown-up fans. I am not c6a93da74d
